A BUNCH OF SWIFTS

That is what recently happened in one of the old North Missouri towns when a fire broke out. A man discovered the fire, dressed and ran to the court house to ring the fire bell. It wouldn't ring, so he went back home and telephoned "Central" about it. "Central" telephoned around town and told several people about the fire and asked them to come up and put it out. Someone then went to the power house and blew the whistle and woke everybody up. The city marshal came to the rescue and went to the pumping station and started the engine that did the pumping. In the meantime the building burned down.—Ex.

Doing Good.

Few medicines have met with more favor or accomplished more good than Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. John F. Jantzen, Sask., says of it, "I have used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy myself and in my family, and can recommend it as being an exceptionally fine preparation." Obtainable everywhere. County Court

Following are the proceedings of the County Court the latter part of last week:

John D. Vance was appointed Justice of the Peace of Randolph Township, the justiceship having been vacated by the removal of John Wallace.

John Wallace was ordered to turn over all papers and records of Justice of the Peace of Randolph township to Sheriff Chas. H. Adams.

Petitioners were heard concerning the incorporation of Flat River, but upon request of the attorneys of the remonstrants, hearing was continued to July 13.

Collector James J. Croke was ordered to return as erroneous the personal assessment of Alley West for the years 1914, 1915, 1916 and 1917. The Court found that this property should be assessed to A. M. West only.

A license was granted to G. A. Lawson to operate a pool hall in Flat River.

A quarantine camp for small pox patients was ordered established at some suitable place.

MAKES $200,000 IN FIVE MONTHS JUST BY DOING NOTHING.

Kansas City Mo.—Two hundred thousand dollars for doing nothing for five months?

If William T. Kemper keeps a set of books on his business affairs the foregoing is one of the items.

Getting down to plain figures, by just staying out of the banking game for five months, Kemper made $200,000, about $40,000 a month, or something like $1,333 a day—just for staying out of the banking business in Kansas City—no Charlie Chaplin stunts.

When the Commerce Trust Company and the Southwest National Bank of Commerce were consolidated, Kemper sold his stock in the Commerce Trust Company, which he was largely instrumental in upbuilding, and was paid $200,000 bonus for his promise not to enter the Kansas City banking field as a competitor of the two institutions.

Five months passed and the growth of the combined institution was such that changes were necessary. A power in finance was needed to aid in directing Kansas City's largest financial institution. And Kemper was suggested.

A few days ago the men who made the contract with Kemper to stay out of Kansas City banking for three years, decided $200,000 wasn't much compared to the value of the man. So the contract was torn up, the $200,000 forgotten and Kemper was elected to steer the affairs of the institution as chairman of the two boards.

And harking back to the consolidation, it may be said that Kemper got a premium of about $35 a share for his stock in the Trust Company. Incidentally, he is acting as receiver for the Orient Railroad while serving as chairman of the boards of directors of the two banks.

Mosby on Missouri

(From an address delivered by Thos. Speed Mosby, Flag Day, 1917, at the State Capitol, Jefferson City, Mo.)

Nestling here in the heart of this vast continent, the shining sun in all his course beholds no fairer land than this, our dear Missouri. Whether in the teeming life of her sunlit fields or in the whirr of her busy shops and mills, or when, reposing on her bed of flowers, Night crowns her with a diadem of stars, Missouri is still the land of which the prophets have dreamed and poets sung; she is the fabled Atlantis, that seems foretold; she is the garden of the Hesperides, where the golden apples glow; she is the pole-star of the Union, and the Eden of the world.

Is not such a land worth living for—yes, dying for? Yea, is it not worthy of the last drop of your heart's blood? Tell me, you who know Missouri; you who have basked beneath the witchery of her smiling skies, and seen her myriad flocks and herds upon ten thousand grassy plains; you who have seen the golden gleaming of her seas of wheat, and beheld the glory of her emerald hills, cloud-kissed, sun-crowned, in their azure, green and gold, where the honeysuckle and the rose comingle their blushes in perennial beauty forevermore; you who have glimpsed the rainbow trout and the big-mouthed bass, leaping in all their shimmering splendor on the bosom of her silver streams; who have heard the bull-frog boom his basso in our great Southeast, "where the cotton, cawn and sweet potatoes grow"; who have heard her whip-poor-wills—acalling from each shady nook and rill, while her orioles warble at the gate of dawn, her mocking birds trill eternal melody in a thousand groves; and the bob-white whistles to his mate, "when the frost is on the pumpkin and the fudder's in the shock."

It is true that we have no morning drum-beat, keeping coming with the hours, to encircle the globe with the blatant boast of military power; but, for all that, the bray of the Missouri mule is heard 'round the world today. Why, an ordinary Missouri hen can make more fuss than a suffragette convention—and yield more revenue, too. It is Missouri lead that is doing the awful work in Europe today. Yea, it is a fact that Europe is literally shot to pieces with Missouri lead. Some day, let us hope, the world will learn to make a better use of all the good things that come from Missouri. And that day is coming, too. Though dark the lowering war clouds loom today, and loud the riven thunders roar, the day of peace is coming by and by, and the horrors of this universal war will pass, just as surely as the mist of night shall pass before the glory of the sun. And when the Eternal Spring shall come, and the flowers shall bloom to die no more, when "The tumult and the shouting dies, The Captains and the Kings depart"—then, O then, my brother, we'll use our Missouri lead for sinkers, and our bayonets for digging bait. Then shall all nations be at peace, and the good men from all over the world shall flock to Missouri—to Missouri, the land of glory without guile, where the soil is rich enough to raise anything on earth but a disturbance, and where there is always enough of the milk of human kindness to sustain the population when the cow goes dry.

WHY IS AN EDITOR?

An editor is a man who sells soft soap by the year instead of by the cake.

He runs a newspaper, in which he lies about the looks of the bride, the fitness of candidates, the virtues of corpses and his circulation.

The things he tells the truth about are the things he leaves out. Newspapers are supposed to run, but many of them are barely able to walk, due to too much riding by free space grafters, and too much carrying by whalecase hoaxes.

The popular belief is that an editor cannot live unless his subscribers pay up.

That is probably why they do not pay up.

The most successful editors are not the ones who get the most out of the business, but the ones who get out of the business.

Many an editor has made good money out of the newspaper business, if entirely out.

What the public seems to want an editor to make is haste, not money.

The newspaper business is not so much of a profession as a habit.

If the habit is not broken in time, the editor will be.

After the editors, the paper manufacturers make the most money out of the newspaper business.

And it would be much better for the newspaper business if the paper manufacturers were not after the editors.

One of the saddest things in an editor's life is that he has to help keep the paper manufacturer from starving to death.

Editors are said to mould public opinion.

We have often wondered why public opinion was so mouldy.

Most public men are made by newspapers, which is one of the greatest objections to newspapers.

The freedom of the press is one of the grandest heritages left to us by the fathers who founded our republic, but the freedom of many presses is badly clogged by mortgages, advertising contracts and other attachments. Real editors have to be born.

For that matter, however, so do other people.

An editor never knows before he goes into the business what he knows after he gets in. If he did, he would not go in.

That is why an editor is.

The suffragists themselves seem to be indifferent as to how much injury that little group of desperate women in Washington will do to the cause.

As the only man of prominence in Chicago who did not buy a Liberty Bond, Mayor Thompson should receive the iron cross from the Kaiser.

Flies Breed in Filth

—then come into your home

FILTH MEANS DISEASE and flies are born in filth, feed on filth and carry filth with them wherever they alight. Flies hatching today in an outhouse, stableyard or in garbage, may bring distress to your family later on in the summer. They may bring typhoid fever, summer complaint, consumption, malaria, or perhaps infantile paralysis. The fly is almost the exclusive conveyor of diarrhoea and dysentery among children and babies.

Red Devil Lye

Eats Filth and Destroys the Fly Eggs

This wonderful Lye eats up filth and leaves absolutely nothing for flies to feed on or breed in. Just sprinkle it once or twice a week in the privy or outhouse. It does the work. Encourage your neighbor to clean his outhouse also, because what's good for yours is good for his.

RED DEVIL LYE is also simply wonderful for making soap, conditioning hogs, and for making compost for fertilizer.

RED DEVIL LYE is sold by all grocers. Demand 10c cans. One dime can contains more than two nickel cans. Send Postal For Free Booklet.

Revenues Show Gratifying Gain

John L. Sullivan, Secretary of State, six months of 1916 were $468,136.80, and for the first six months of 1917, $795,735.15—an increase of $327,598.35.

Heavy increases in the number of automobile licenses and incorporation tax fees helped this total. The sources of collection were:

Seminary Fund	$ 540.75	$ 641.35
Incorporation Tax	79,998.00	249,518.00
Office Fees	4,440.30	5,556.50
Sale of Laws	262.00	223.50
Land Department	337.90	325.30
Notary Commissions	5,845.00	7,520.00
Corporations (roads)	9,166.35	15,076.00
Automobiles	368,046.50	516,873.50
	$468,136.80	$795,735.15

St. Francois county had 745 automobiles in 1916, and up to July 1, 1917, licenses had been issued for 1095.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

However, you never hear Berlin trying to throw off on your secret service system.

With Portugal so close, it's easy to understand the increased war enthusiasm in Spain.

Another horror is the fact that New York, Boston, Baltimore and other Atlantic ports lose their individuality in many a dispatch under the anonymity of "An Atlantic port."

Girls Don Overalls

Fifty girls clad in overalls and dark-colored middie blouses are wiping engines in the Erie roundhouse at Cleveland, Ohio. Two dozen more are working in the shops. Thirty-five more have gone to work as checkers for the B. & O. Three are wiping engines in the roundhouse at Mandan, N. D. Others are working in railroad shops at Glendive and Dickinson.

Big business houses are having trouble in getting enough girls or boys to do office work; it is much more pleasant, with shorter hours and higher salaries, but they must have Business Training before they can fill these office positions. They can get this Business Training from our experts in the shortest possible time, and those who prepare first will get the best positions and best chances for promotion. Text book publishers expect to increase their prices not later than August first. Better order your books now and save money. Geo. A. Miller, Business College, Farmington, Mo.

Follow the Boys With the Flag

From your neighborhood—from your own hearth—the sturdy soldiers for the great army are being selected. Soon they will be in the training camps, then on the battlefields.

You will want to follow them—to know what they are doing and what they are enduring. The St. Louis Republic will have its own wherever there is news. Wherever your boy goes, by his side will be someone who will tell the story in The Republic.

The Farmington Times will give you, in addition, all the local news. Every happening of importance to the community will be told in our columns.

"Our Navy" contains photographs of every type of vessel in the U. S. Navy and scenes of life on board. The full text of the President's war message is in this book, together with a new copy-written photograph of President Wilson. This book should be in every patriotic American home.
